

Missions Fest International

Richard Dodding

Warm Greetings to you in Pretoria, South Africa, on the occasion of your third Missions Fest™ conference!

It was my joy to be with you during your last two conferences and to see how you have grown and developed. I was also present during the first pastors' luncheon held in Central Baptist Church in 2006 where the seeds of the concept of a Missions Fest™ conference were shared. Even though I cannot be with you this year, I will be able to imagine what it will be like since I have visited this church.

I will be attending a new Missions Fest™ conference the same weekend in Lancaster, Pennsylvania (USA). Two of their keynote speakers will be Joanne Shetler, Wycliffe Bible translator from the Philippines and Steve Saint, whose father was martyred while serving in Ecuador. I will invite them to be praying for you, as I trust you will remember them. The vision of Missions Fest™ conferences is spreading to other African cities. Yaoundé, Cameroon is currently becoming registered in order to begin planning their first conference. And, Kampala, Uganda is working hard as they anticipate their first Missions Fest™ conference in the near future.

In each city, the churches from many denominations are working together. They understand the value of pooling their resources so that more can be accomplished when they partner with each other. The goals are to inform, celebrate and challenge God's people. The Gospel of our Lord Jesus needs to be shared across the street and around the world. As God will be calling people in Pretoria this weekend, we pray that many will respond. Remember the words Jesus spoke to his disciples, "With God, all things are possible."

May this be a wonderful Missions Fest™ conference, and may God bless you!

The secret that life is bigger than "me" is simple but profound, and can only be discovered when you take that step to do something big on behalf of someone else. I believe there are still enough people like that in this broken world...people that refuse to walk past Valeacia on the other side of the road. I think they are called "good Samaritans..."
